

January 9 – 11, 2019

Baltimore Convention Center,
Baltimore, MD

Every year at MANTS, companies from across the country and around the world debut new products, plants, flowers and more on the show floor. This is an exciting practice and the MANTS team would like to help amplify your work.

If we are made aware of your new products, we can help in two major ways:

- We will help filter this information to the press that attends the show. This will inform the media of the products and hopefully inspire stories that spread awareness to consumers. In addition, a few lucky exhibitors will be selected to present their new products at our annual Media Breakfast.
- This information is also valuable to our administrative team; we can go into the show with a better idea of what is being displayed and we can be more educated on the breadth of products being created by our exhibitors and used by our attendees.

Tell us about your exciting new products NOW by clicking on the button below!

Submit a new product!